INCIDENT FAR FROM CLOSED.

Later Revelations May Prove Crane Victim of Political Intrigue.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. Charles R. Crane, who was appointed minister to China, and who was recalled just as he was about to sail for his post, declined today to reveal at this time what his friends declare are the real reasons for his retirement. One of these friends, however, Walter L. Fisher of Chicago, intimated strongly that the incident is far from closed, and that revelations which will be made in due time will show Mr. Crane to have been the victim of a political intrigue.

"While Mr. Crane's official relations are definitely ended," said Mr. Fisher, "there are many things connected with this matter of such a character and importance that the American people must continue to be deeply concerned in them. Mr. Crane has preferred not to go into them now, because the possibility of a public discussion at this time might be harmful to the public interests.

"So far as the personal indignity and official embarrassment that have occurred have been due to publicity, the responsibility is on the Department of State, and not on Mr. Crane."

PLOT TO MURDER TWO PRESIDENTS.

Meetings Everywhere; Plans Perfected in Chicago.

Secret Service Men Rushed There and to El Paso.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The Chicago Journal today declares that an anarchist plot directed from Chicago by men planning to assassinate President Taft and President Diaz at El Paso, Texas, tomorrow, has been discovered by secret service men here. The Journal story proceeds:

"Chief Wilkie of the secret service bureau has assigned many detectives to Chicago to learn the identity of the men selected to kill the two presidents. For the last two weeks, it was learned today, meetings have been held by the anarchist groups in every large city of the country, but the assassination plans, according to government agents, were completed in this city. Four of Chief Wilkie's men, disguised as laborers, attended a socialist meeting here last night, at which the execution of Professor Ferrer in Spain was condemned."

The Journal declares that secret service men have been brought here from Denver and other cities to assist in the investigations, and that others have been rushed to El Paso. It is asserted that the cancellation of a public meeting of the heads of the two governments was at the advice of Chief Wilkie.

ON HIS WAY TO MEET DIAZ.

Taft's Travels Lead Him Out of Arizona into New Mexico.

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Oct. 15.—President Taft is today speeding toward El Paso, where tomorrow he will meet President Diaz of Mexico, going later to Juarez to return the call, and making his second trip into Mexico in the evening, to be guest of President Diaz at a state banquet.

The President's travels lead him out of Arizona, where he has spent two days and a half, into New Mexico, where he will carry to the people his message of sympathy in their struggle for statehood and his pledge to do what he can to see that statehood is granted, in accordance with the promise of the Republican national platform.

At La Guna, in New Mexico, this afternoon the President will stop for half an hour to witness a dance by a band of Pueblo Indians. He will arrive in Albuquerque shortly after 5 o'clock, to remain until midnight, when the journey to El Paso will be resumed.

The President's train passed through here shortly after 7 a. m.

COOK TO ISSUE A DETAILED REPLY.

Explorer in New York to Receive Freedom of the City.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—New York became the storm centre of the North Pole controversy again today, when Dr. Frederick A. Cook and several other persons who have figured prominently in the discussion arrived here from different parts of the country. The explorer came from Atlantic City to attend a public reception in the aldermanic chamber and receive the "freedom of the city" from the board of aldermen. The Arctic Club of America also planned to give him a gold medal, which was not finished in time for presentation at the big banquet which welcomed Dr. Cook soon after his arrival from Copenhagen.

The officers of the Arctic Club were making every effort today to find Edward Barrill, the guide, whose affidavit denying that Dr. Cook ever scaled Mt. McKinley was the sensation of yesterday's developments. Barrill was expected here today. Dr. Roswell O. Stebbins, chairman of the executive committee of the Arctic Club, said that three days ago Dr. Cook received a telegram from Barrill asking Cook to meet him here yesterday. The explorer was unable to come at that time, but he sent his wife, who remained at her hotel here all day, waiting in vain for the guide to appear.

The supporters of Cook point out that the aldermen did not see fit to change their plans after reading Barrill's affidavit.

On his arrival at the Twenty-third street ferry, Dr. Cook was met by a large number of reporters, who piled him with questions in reference to Mr. Barrill's affidavit. The explorer, who evidently was greatly annoyed about the statements made in that document, did not depart from his usual attitude of reserve and made very brief replies to the questions put to him. The only definite answer was:

"I will, in a detailed reply to Barrill's affidavit, bring full reports that many of his declarations are absolutely untrue. In some cases, of course, the question will resolve itself into the word of one man against that of another, as neither can bring tangible evidence.

"The affirmation made by Barrill that the photograph of himself holding the American flag in his hand was taken a long distance from the top of the mountain is not true. The picture shows the actual summit.

"I will not now discuss the matter further. I can, however, assure you that I will issue a detailed statement in reply, it may be given out today, but it may also be delayed for several days."

Questioned as to the statement issued this morning by the photographer, Walter F. Miller, Dr. Cook said:

"What Miller says is utterly valueless. He was never near Mt. McKinley. His alleged corroboration of Barrill's affidavit is unworthy of notice."

MUST RENOUNCE CLAIM.

Request Sent to University of Copenhagen in Regard to Cooke.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The University of Copenhagen was today requested by the National Geographic Society to renounce its first claim to an examination of Dr. Cook's observations made during his search for the Pole. The message, which was signed by Willis L. Moore, president of the National Geographic Society, said:

"National Geographic Society requests waiver your first claim to Cook observations of latitude and longitude. American scientists impatient at delay, and feel that this is a matter that should be settled in America."

A message was also sent to Commander Peary at Eagle Island, Casco bay, Maine, saying:

"Board of National Geographic Society wishes to act on your expedition at regular meeting next Wednesday. Can you not immediately forward us sufficient records to justify action then?"

LARGE PLAN INVOLVED.

New Haven Does Not Know Reason for Billard Stock Increase.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 15.—No information is obtainable in railroad circles here as to the reason for the increase in the capital stock of the Billard Company, which was incorporated by the last session of the general assembly. That company was formed with no official connection with the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, but it was known that at the time it was intended to serve as a holding company for the Boston & Maine stock then held by Mr. Billard of Meriden. As Mr. Billard has disposed of his stock in that road, the surmise now is that the incorporators of the Billard Company may have in view the holding of stocks of large interests. The charter is described as a broad one, although limitations in two particulars were made by amendments adopted by the general assembly, those being in regard to limitations on capitalization and to secure publicity.

That the continuance of the corporate hand its increased capital involves a large plan is further indicated by the fact that it is a Connecticut corporation, and has its home in the state to which the New Haven company has constantly appealed for protection of its interests under its incorporative state charter.

THIRTY-SIX ARRESTED.

Striking Manila Cigar Makers Charged with Criminal Conspiracy.

MANILA, Oct. 15.—Thirty-six leaders of the striking cigar makers here were arrested today, charged with criminal conspiracy. This action is the result of the unionized cigar makers striking for higher wages after the Payne tariff bill went into effect. Several serious riots have taken place.

The complaint on which the leaders were arrested includes a recitation of the alleged blood pact which was signed by the strikers. This was an oath each was required to take, stating that if they betrayed the cause their brothers had the right to kill them without responsibility to the authorities.

SHILOH AGAIN A SCENE OF RUIN.

Tennessee and Alabama Swept by a Hurricane.

Many Towns Suffer, and Loss of Life and Property Large.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 15.—Shiloh Battlefield today again presented a scene of ruin, following the hurricane-like storm which swept middle and western Tennessee and northern Alabama last night. The most serious damage in the cemetery was the wrecking of he Iowa state monument, which was blown from its pedestal when the wind reached its height. The superintendent's quarters were destroyed, and giant forest trees were uprooted.

Fifteen lives were lost at Hamburg, McNairy county, Tenn., where is located the National Cemetery of the famous battlefield, and a score or more were injured. The storm struck the Hamburg vicinity with great fury, leveling stores, storehouses and dwellings.

The known death list is now 13, and 13 more lives are reported lost at Stantonville, McNairy county, but this report has not been completely verified. It is believed the total death list will run far over the now known dead, as the storm was one of the most severe in the history of the state. The property damage is heavy, as many dwellings and storehouses were wrecked, and the accompanying hail and rain did heavy damage to crops and vegetation.

Telegraph and telephone service, which was completely interrupted last night, is badly crippled, and reports have not as yet been received from all districts.

Denmark, in Madison county, Tenn., probably suffered most, this little town being practically wiped from the map, fire following the passing of the storm continuing the work of destruction; today the town is largely smouldering embers. With the first gust of wind, besides numerous dwellings and more frail structures, 18 substantial business houses were twisted into wreckage. Quickly following the passing of the storm came the fire. The last despatches told of the conflagration gradually burning itself out. Denmark had a population of about 300. Of the fatalities two occurred here, Albert Barnes and his child, an infant, being caught among the falling timbers of their home and crushed to death. Mrs. Barnes was injured.

At Whiteville a factory and church building were wrecked.

At Buford Station the Louisville & Nashville depot and freight buildings were destroyed and several other structures were badly damaged.

Near Mulberry, in Lincoln county, the dwelling and farm house on the plantation of Robert Mattow were demolished. Thomas Helm was killed, and Homer Ashby and wife were injured.

At Wartrace a negro settlement was levelled.

Gibson Station, Dyersburg, Stanton and Mercer are other towns in Tennessee reporting minor damage.

The hotel and a large storehouse at Pittsburg Landing, on the Tennessee river, not far from Hamburg, were destroyed, two men losing their lives in the wreckage. They were among the 15 victims.

NO LIVES LOST IN ATLANTA.

Houses Unroofed, Trees Levelled, and $100,000 Property Damage.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 15.—Unroofed houses and levelled trees are the extent of the damage left today in the wake of last night's storm. So far as known no lives were lost. The property loss is variously estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000.

PREPARATIONS FOR DEPARTURE.

Mrs. Taft to Be Accompanied to Washington by Her Sister.

BEVERLY, Mass., Oct. 15.—Final preparations for the departure of Mrs. W. H. Taft, wife of the President, from the summer capital at Woodberry Point were completed early today, and everything was in readiness at noon for Mrs. Taft's journey to Washington. The arrangements made provided that Pullman car Commonwealth should be attached to the afternoon train at Monserratt station due to leave at 5:33. Mrs. Taft will be accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Moore; Mrs. Moore's young son, John Herron Moore, and Dr. Michael Delaney. Mrs. Taft's physician. The train is due in Boston at 6:24. The Commonwealth in Boston will be transferred from the North station to the South station, where it will be attached to the Federal express over the Shore line, leaving Boston at 8 o'clock this evening.

Although Mrs. Taft and her sister still occupy the premises, the summer capital has a distinctly deserted appearance today. Practically all the personal effects of the family have been shipped to Washington, the stables have been cleared, and the automobiles prepared for a journey by rail to the Capital. Today the Jersey cow "Rosebud," which was one of the features of the summer stories from the President's house, was sent to the farm from which she was obtained, in Lowell. Arrangements have been made for guards to have charge of the premises during the winter.

Mrs. Moore will remain with Mrs. Taft at the White House until the President returns from his trip, when she will go to her home in Cincinnati.

PRIEST SUMMONED TO BEDSIDE.

McCarren's Illness Takes Turn for Worse, and He Makes His Will.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The condition of State Senator Patrick H. McCarren, Democratic leader of Brooklyn, now in the hospital following an operation for appendicitis performed last Wednesday, was slightly improved today, after several hours of natural sleep, but still extremely critical.

Last night the patient suffered a sinking spell, and when he finally emerged from it his vitality was at so low an ebb that it was considered too dangerous to administer opiates. His acute nervousness gradually abated, however, and the coming of sleep brought new hope of his ultimate recovery.

Senator McCarren's illness took a turn for the worse this afternoon. He made his will, and a priest was summoned to administer the last rites.

This Morning's News.

PITTSBURGS ALMOST WON.

But Detroit Checked Them in the Ninth Inning.

DETROIT, Oct. 14.—In the most sensational battle of the world's series, in which Pittsburg was throttled in the ninth inning when Clarke's men made a terrific onslaught on the home plate, and in which three Detroit players were painfully injured, the Tigers defeated Pittsburg this afternoon by a score of 6 to 4.

Thrilling incidents followed each other in rapid succession, the climax coming in the ninth, when the National League champions, by a magnificent burst of speed which nearly gave them the victory, sent one run over the plate, had one man nailed at that point and another at third base on a daring attempt to steal.

During the rally of the Pirates three accidents happened to Detroit players in the attempt to stem the rush of the Pittsburgs to the last corner, which may cripple the team so badly as to greatly reduce the chances of the Tigers of winning the seventh game to be played here Saturday.

Tom Jones, the Detroit first baseman, was the most seriously hurt. His neck and spine were injured in a collision with Wilson at first base and this resulted in Pittsburg scoring its run in that inning. Charles Schmidt, the catcher, had his right leg badly gashed in blocking Abstein off the plate in the final inning. The play which finished the threatened rally of the National League champions resulted in the injury of George Moriarty, when he caught Wilson trying to steal third on Abbatichelo's strikeout in the same inning. Moriarty's left knee was badly hurt when Wilson slid into the base.

The delay occasioned by Tom Jones gave Mullin a hard-earned opportunity to recover his balance. Gibson grounded to Crawford, who had succeeded T. Jones at first base, and the crack outfielder made a great stop and threw to the plate. Abstein was out when Schmidt blocked him off the plate and tagged him, but the Detroit catcher was badly spiked; he continued, however, to play in a game manner, and the crowd knew that he had been injured.

Tom Jones was so badly hurt that he was carried from the field unconscious. He recovered consciousness in the clubhouse and insisted that he be taken to his home, rather than to a hospital. He was taken home in an ambulance and it is practically certain that he will not be able to play in Saturday's decisive game. Schmidt. It is thought will be able to play and there is no doubt about Moriarty. The injury to Jones necessitated shifting Crawford to first base, D. Jones to centre field and McIntyre to left field.

The Pittsburg team took the lead by batting out three runs on four successive hits off Mullin in the first inning. After that Mullin was invincible until the ninth, when he weakened enough to get into a dangerous situation, only to extricate himself by another marvellous exhibition of pitching.

Detroit exhibited once more its wonderful up-hill qualities. The American League champions scored one run in the first inning and batted Willis out of the box by scoring two runs in the fourth and one more in the fifth by hard batting. Camnitz succeeded Willis, and Detroit batted him enough to make another run in the sixth inning. Camnitz was withdrawn when Hyatt batted for him in the seventh and the veteran Phillippe stopped Detroit's further scoring.

The ninth inning rally by Pittsburg teemed with tense moments and dramatic incidents. At one time a hit meant the probable winning of the world's championship by Pittsburg, because a single would have tied the score and a two bagger would perhaps have put Pittsburg in the lead.

The Pittsburgs went to bat with the score 5 to 3 against them in the last inning. Miller started with a single to right and Abstein cracked another in the same place, sending Miller to second. Wilson placed a bunt in front of the plate and Schmidt fielded it to first, but the collision with Wilson caused Jones to lose the ball. Miller scored and Abstein went to third.

Manager Clarke sent Abbatichelo to bat for Phillippe. With Wilson on second and Gibson on first, a hit by Abbatichelo meant a tie score at least. This was when Mullin arose to the occasion and made himself another niche in the Detroit base ball Hall of Fame. He nearly equalled his remarkable performance of striking out Clarke and Wagner in Tuesday's game. Abbatichelo was a stubborn batter, and it required everything Mullin had to strike him out. On the third strike Wilson tried to steal third, but was caught, Schmidt to Moriarty, ending the game with a victory for Detroit.

The crowd rushed upon the field and the players were jostled about by the mob of cheering Detroit supporters, anxious to shake their hands and congratulate them. The injured Moriarty was surrounded by a crowd of sympathizers and an attempt was made to carry Mullin off the field, but the big pitcher evaded his would-be captors.

Today's wonderful game has set Detroit base ball mad again. The interest in the series was beginning to wane a bit because of the long drawn competition and the decisive victory of Pittsburg yesterday, but tonight conditions are changed. Every one in the city believes the Detroits will be the next world's champions and take the title after two unsuccessful attempts against the Chicago Nationals.

The lessened interest in the series was clearly shown by the fact that only 10,535 persons saw the game. The receipts for the day were $12,617. Of this money the national commission will receive $1,251, and each club owner $5,632. This brings the total attendance for the series up to 127,832 for six games. This is an average of more than 21,000 a game, and a new record for the world's championship series. The total receipts equal $168,625.

Hans Wagner played a marvelous game in the field, but made only one hit in four times at bat. In the field, however, he was everywhere and did his best to stop the Detroit team from scoring. He covered third, retiring Detroit players twice, by crowding Byrne out of the way and taking the play himself. In the fourth inning he raced over to third base, took Miller's assist on Moriarty's hit and retired Delehanty. Again in the sixth inning he covered third and took Camnitz's assist, retiring Schmidt.

Mullin, Schmidt, Crawford and Bush did the best playing for Detroit. Mullin's wonderful pitching after he had been unmercifully hammered in the first inning was a revelation to the spectators. Four hits were made off his delivery in rapid succession at the opening of the game, but between the first and ninth innings he allowed only two safe hits. The ninth opened with three safe hits in succession by Pittsburg, but again Mullin arose to the occasion and stopped his hard-hitting opponents before they could reap any substantial advantage from his short lapses. All told Pittsburg made nine hits off Mullin and seven of them were bunched in the first and ninth innings.

One of the most sensational plays of the game was a double play made by Schmidt and Bush in the sixth inning. With Miller on first, Abstein lifted a high foul which Schmidt caught with his back to the field. Miller started for second after the catch, but a wonderfully fast play by Schmidt and a great one-handed catch and sweep downward by Bush caught Miller off second after the Pittsburg man had made a desperate slide. Schmidt played a wonderfully fine game throughout and saved Mullin from two or three wild pitches by his marvelous catching.

BOSTON AMERICANS WIN.

Take Fourth Straight Victory Over the New York Nationals.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Boston Americans wound up the post-season series with the New York Nationals here this afternoon by winning their fourth straight victory by a score of 5 to 4. Only 789 fans braved the cold weather to witness the contests. The Giants put up a poor exhibition throughout. Speaker again starred for Boston, batting in the first three runs scored by the Red Sox.

The series, in a financial way, was a disappointment to the promoters. The total receipts for the five games, of which Boston won four, were $12,862. Of this amount the Boston team received $4,000, to be divided between 20 players, the manager, trainer and Secretary. The New York players get as their share of the receipts $2,671.

Inflexible Not Trying to Wrest Atlantic Record from Mauretania.

PORTSMOUTH, England, Oct. 14.—Apparently the Inflexible, flagship of the British squadron which visited New York at the time of the Hudson-Fulton celebration, has abandoned her attempt to wrest the Atlantic record for an eastward passage from Cunard liner Mauretania. The flagship sailed from New York October 9, at which time it was said the battleship would try for a record run home. Though no explanation of the change of plan is forthcoming, word has been received from Sir Edward Seymour commander-in-chief, that the vessel is proceeding under ordinary speed, and will not reach Portsmouth until next Monday.

FORCING ITS WAY INTO DITCH.

Big Sand Dredger Begins Work on Cape Cod Bay Side of Canal.

SANDWICH, Mass., Oct. 14.—Into the mouth of the ditch which marked the first effort to dig a canal across Cape Cod there was pushed today a big sand dredger which had been brought from Baltimore, and which it is expected will materially aid in making the dirt fly in the present attempt to connect Buzzard's bay with Cape Cod bay. The old ditch extends a couple of miles back from the beach opposite Sagamore, but time had filled it up until the mouth was almost closed, and only the highest tides flow up its narrow reaches. Nevertheless, it will assist in the work on the present trench. The dredge has been at work on the Buzzard's bay side several weeks, but there conditions are more severe, as rocks and boulders are frequent.

AUTOMOBILIST SENT TO JAIL.

Stamford Man's Gross Carelessness Cost a Human Life.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 14.—Theodore C. Goetz of Stamford, an automobilist convicted by a jury yesterday on the charge of involuntary manslaughter, was sent to jail for one year today. The court said that the evidence showed that Goetz had taken a human life because of gross carelessness. His machine struck Mrs. Sarah Howe, who had just alighted from a trolley car.

GENERAL AGITATION FAVORED.

New York Chamber of Commerce Urging Revival of Merchant Marines.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The special committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce last June to inquire into the causes of the decline in American shipping engaged in international commerce today reported favoring general agitation among commercial bodies throughout the country in behalf of a governmental policy which would bring about a revival of the merchant marine of the United States.

A resolution was offered approving the bill passed by the Senate but rejected by the House in the last Congress, providing for a mail subsidy for American ships of the so-called second and third class engaged in navigation between South America, the Orient and all home ports. Action on the resolution was postponed until the next meeting.

TO BECOME A HOUSEBOAT.

Racing Days for Famous Seventy-Footer Yankee Recently Sold Over.

Mr. Henry L. Maxwell, who purchased sloop yacht Avenger from Mr. Alexander S. Cochran a few days ago, has sold his 70-foot sloop Yankee to Edward S. Reiss & Co., and the racing days of the famous yacht are over. The new owners have disposed of the fittings of the vessel and are now removing her load. The hull will not be broken up, as was at first decided upon, but will likely do service as a houseboat in the future.

This disposition of the Yankee leaves only the Mineola of the quartet of famous 70-footers intact. The Rainbow was turned over to the Herreshoffs when Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt ordered sloop Aurora from them in the latter part of 1906, since which time little has been done with her save the reduction of her draught last year. The Virginia was sold by Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., in 1908, and after her lead was removed the hull was purchased by Mr. Robert Barrie of the Corinthian Yacht Club of Philadelphia, who has since used her as a houseboat. The Mineola is at Cliff Island, and has not been in commission for several seasons.

The class was built in 1900 by the Herreshoffs and the four vessels were owned by the following members of the New York Yacht Club: The Rainbow, Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt; Mineola, Mr. August Belmont, Virginia, Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and the Yankee, Mr. H. P. Whitney and Mr. Herman B. Duryea. The class became famous, and notwithstanding the many criticisms of their construction; their speed and seaworthy qualities the record at this late day is that for three racing years through a series of years, the class was most interesting and creditable alike to their designer, Captain N. G. Herreshoff, their owners and the New York Yacht Club.

The first of the quartet to change hands was the Yankee. Mr. J. Rogers Maxwell purchased her in 1902 and raced her for four years, until 1906, when he ordered the now famous schooner yacht Queen. Then he gave the Yankee to his son, Mr. Harry L. Maxwell, who persistently raced her that year with the Rainbow.

In 1905 the Yankee won the Astor Cup for sloops. The Astor Cups were not sailed for during the eclipse of the New York Yacht Club that year, owing to a hull storm and heavy sea off Newport, but were sailed for September 13, a month later. Harry Maxwell had charge of the Yankee, and sailed her during the race.

So far as the Yankee is concerned, Mr. J. Rogers Maxwell, since the construction of his schooner, the Queen, has said to friends: "I had more real racing pleasure with the Yankee than with any other yacht that I ever owned." Greater praise of a vessel could not be had, as Mr. Maxwell stands, and has stood for very many years, in the front rank of experienced yacht-racing owners, and his greatest pleasure has been in sailing his many vessels.

TIVERTON.

One of the most important real estate deals in this vicinity in some time took place when the Potter farm, formerly known as the old Bateman farm, was turned over to George H. Brow of Providence. This farm is one of the most beautifully located spots south of the Stone Bridge and comprises 85 acres of cleared land and 15 of marsh land bordering on Nonquit pond on the east and Seaconnet river on the south, where a view of the ocean as far as the eye can reach can be had. Mr. Brow's idea is to erect another barn of the same size as the old one and make a large addition to the house, in which Franklin E. Brow and family will locate, as he will be in control and manager in the interest of his brother. Mr. Brow will introduce on the farm all the latest machinery and under the western farming idea intends to have one of the best equipped farms in the country when completed.

Tiverton has probably never before been the scene of so much excitement as has been created by the suit case murder and that is the principal topic of discussion everywhere in town. Fully 50 reporters and photographers, representing Fall River, Providence, New York, Boston and other newspapers have been in town and the livery stables have done a large business in carrying people to and from the scene of the finding of the pants of the body on Indian Marsh road.

Steps are being taken to organize a taxicab corporation in town. The capital stock has not yet been decided upon, but the officers of the new corporation will be D. V. Curran president, William N. Andrews, treasurer, Lloyd A. C. Nickerson will constitute the directors.

SIR ROBERT WHITE.

[Austin Arnold McCausland, in the National Magazine.]

O'er russet field of ripened corn,
From out the purpling hazel's bourn
Floats a clear call to Arcadie.

No need of sight to know that fall
Brown nuts to earth whence comes this call,
This ready call to Arcadie.

No need of ear to know the pipe
Of Syrinx plays o'er Autumn ripe
In spicy glades of Arcadie.

That woodsy notes are fluting light
In tune with throat of Old Bob White
Whistling a call to Arcadie.

His clear note sounds less shallowly
Than reeds of Pan blown mellowly
Through thymy aisles of Arcadie.

I, glad, from trodden, dusty road
Would turn swift feet to sylvan sward
And heed your call to Arcadie.

A HELPING HAND.

Is Gladly Extended by a Newport Citizen.

There are many enthusiastic citizens in Newport prepared to tell their experience for the public good. Testimony from such a source is the best of evidence, and will prove a "helping hand" to scores of readers. Read the following statement:

W. H. Ackers, 17 Third Street, Newport, R. I., says: "A steady ache and lameness in my back caused me a great deal of misery. Every cold I contracted settled in my kidneys and at such times it was about all I could do to get around. Any little exercise so greatly increased the pain in my back that it became almost unbearable. When I arose from a sitting position I had to place my hands against my loins for support. I knew that my kidneys were in a bad condition as the secretions were irregular in passage and contained sediment. A few applications of various kinds had failed to help me at the least. I chanced to hear about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them from Wright & Hay's Drug Store. The contents of four or five boxes entirely relieved me and on several occasions since then when I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills the results have been of the same satisfactory nature."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

SIGNING NOMINATION PAPERS.

Again it seems not inappropriate to call attention to the need of care in signing nomination papers. Under the decision of the court, the city clerk must reject all signatures which do not conform to the name and address of the signer on the last ward list. If the name on the voting list is spelled out it will be useless to sign initials, for they will not count. The address must be the same which appears on the ward list. The second edition of ward lists have just been posted and any citizen before signing a nomination paper would do well to take a look at his ward list and see just how his name appears thereon. Perhaps he will find that some changes are necessary, and he can inform the alderman or the city clerk in regard thereto, but even if it appears on the wrong list that is the way to sign now, and until another list is issued—that is, if one wishes the signature to count.

TOO POOR FOR THE SENATE.

It may be a matter of regret that Senator Flint of California regards himself as too poor to remain in the Senate and will retire at the end of his present term, but it is not sufficient cause to raise the salaries of Senators and Representatives to the amount which a particularly successful lawyer of man of business may be able to earn.

Mr. McKinley remained in public life, though he was not a rich man and could perhaps have earned more at the Bar. He never practiced enough to make this quite certain, but every man believes he can make a fortune at the Bar if he has been successful in politics. Mr. McKinley enjoyed public life and remained in it because he cared more for it than for a fortune. William R. Morrison of Illinois, who died a few weeks ago, used to say while in Congress that he was obliged to sell 40 acres of land from time to time to pay his campaign expenses—his living expenses were probably kept well within his salary—but he remained in Congress till his constituents elected some one else.

Thomas Brackett Reed retired from Congress and accepted $50,000 a year from a law firm in New York as an associate, but he did not resign until he had exhausted the satisfaction of being Speaker, had failed of a Presidential nomination, and found himself much out of harmony with the Roosevelt Administration. He retired to money making when public life lost its charms for him. Samuel J. Randall of Pennsylvania left almost nothing when he died, but remained in Congress and lived on his salary because public life was better to him than wealth. Senator Hoar of Massachusetts was an eminent lawyer. He was not a poor man, though he might have become a rich one by his profession, but public life was more to his taste.

"The applause of the public is sweet to me", said Mr. McKinley when he was urged to leave Congress and try to make money, and that is undoubtedly the feeling—and a creditable feeling—of many other men in public life. Many things besides wealth are desirable. Professor Louis Agassiz said he had no time to make money. Religion, science, philanthropy, literature, political activity and power may properly draw men away from the accumulation of wealth.

PLAY DAYS IN COUNTRY SCHOOLS.

Among the important agencies which are being used to lessen the isolation of country life are play days in country schools. That there is great need of decreasing this feeling of isolation in suburban places all who study the conditions which underlie country life appreciate deeply, and that these play days in the schools in such sections are accomplishing much in that direction is recognized among those who are interested in making life more pleasant for all who reside outside of large cities and towns. There can be no question that it is this isolation which has caused much of the strong feeling which has existed against life in the country, especially in the minds and hearts of the young people, but among other changed conditions which are helping to reduce the strength of that feeling and in many cases to remove it altogether, so that life outside of cities is becoming much more agreeable, is the school play day.

These days are doing for the children and young people what the Grange and other social agencies are doing for their elders. They are awakening a community interest among the young, bringing them close together under conditions which make for pleasure and encouraging and developing in them the spirit of comradeship, which is fatal to the feeling of isolation. Instead of thinking of themselves as units somewhat detached from other units of like kind in the town or village, these young people are realizing through such agencies the fact that they are parts of a composite whole, that they have a share and are factors in the whole community. Under these influences and new ideas the old feeling of isolation drops off and there is born in its place a spirit of fellowship and town or village enthusiasm which is stimulating and helpful.

It is not strange that under the old conditions both adults and children in the country chafed under the life they were forced to live and cherished a strong feeling that they were isolated from the world and even from those parts of it and those people within a comparatively small area outside their own boundary lines. They were cut off not only by distance but in thought and feeling, and all that goes to make a pleasant and agreeable existence. That condition has been greatly changed within a comparatively few years, as improvement after improvement has been introduced which has served to draw and keep the people nearer together. As they came closer in thought and interest they lost gradually, to a considerable extent at least of not wholly, the old feeling of isolation and found that life under improved conditions could be as happy and cheerful and desirable in the country as in the city.

It is not strange, either, that this feeling of isolation was strong among the children and the young people, for to them social life is particularly essential and there was little of that for them. The daily round of school, church and occasional visiting was dull and not calculated to awaken enthusiasm. There was little community of interest, little to bring the young folks together in any way which cemented friendship and encouraged development along social lines. These conditions, too, have largely changed of late and today there is almost as much of the new sort of school spirit to be found in the country as in the city, about as much of the new idea of competition and comradeship in one place as in the other. The result is that community of interest has been stimulated, local enthusiasm has been developed and the village or the town has become the centre of activities which have made the environment of the children and youth delightful and there is little thought of loneliness. In the creation and strengthening of this new spirit the play school has had an important part, with its development of the school spirit, the community interest, the feeling of comradeship and unity of thought, purpose and activity. These are good days for the dwellers in the country, young or old, and the old days of isolation will never come back again.

Curtailment in the cotton mills, not only of New England but also in the South, seems inevitable. The Rhode Island factories have determined to reduce production, the Massachusetts mills shorten time as soon as possible, and it is entirely probable that the South Carolina, Georgia and other state associations will endorse and adopt the curtailment proposition. Everywhere it is admitted that the reduction is resorted to because of the continued low price of manufactured cotton goods as compared with the high price of raw cotton.

If Dr. Cook is proved to be a fakir, as some are trying to make him out to be, there are many throughout the United States and in Canada who will be greatly disappointed in the man. He has won hosts of friends by his modest bearing since his return, and it is difficult to believe that he is such a person as it is claimed. His own statements have not yet been disproved.

If the candidates for office in New York are as bad as their opponents are trying to prove them to be, it is a poor collection of nominees which the parties have presented to the voters. But no political candidate is as bad as his opponents paint him.

Dr. Cook of course disputes the story of Barrill, denying that Cook went to the top of Mt. McKinley. Before condemning Cook it will be the fair thing to look up his proofs, and not take the word of any man to the contrary.

Who will win the world's base ball championship?

THE NOVEMBER MAGAZINES.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson's article, "Bringing the Outdoor Indoors," is the leading feature of popular interest in the Outing Magazine for November. In this Dr. Hutchinson has some trenchant things to say regarding the right and the wrong ways employed by people to put good air into their houses. His suggestions are of considerable practical value. Walter Camp, probably the chief authority in the country on matters pertaining to football, contributes the first article of a series by him, entitled "Heroes of the Gridiron," a vivid look back at the chief football personalities of the last generation.

Other features of importance are: "Taking Care of Your Own Car," by Robert Stoss; "Building Up the Country by Rail," by Edward Hungerford; "In Southern Quail Fields," by Todd Russell; "The Funny Side of Football," by George Jean Nathan; "Southward with the Birds," by E. P. Powell; "Fall Fishing in the Atlantic Surf," by Louis Rhead; and "On Mediterranean Shores," a glimpse of Algiers, by Albert Bigelow Paine.

Two short stories are "Euphemia of the Lingering Youth," by Emmet F. Harte, and "The Man Who Rode Purgatory," by Charles Alden Seltzer.

The leading articles in the Technical World Magazine for November are: "Planning a World Metropolis," by Henry M. Hyde; "Raising a Crop of Live Jewels," by Winthrop Packard; "Frisco's Fight and Bubonic Plague," by William Colby Rucker; "High Explosives Used in Manufacturing Arts," by J. Emilie Blomen; "Huge Dam of the Shoshone," by Len G. Shaw; "To Put an End to Hog Cholera" by Harry F. Kohr; "A $5,000,000,000 Garden of Eden," by F. G. Moorhead; "Norway's New Mountain Railway," by Alice M. Ivimy; "Where the President will Rest," by W. D. Hornaday, and "Wanted—Brave Young Men," by M. Beverly Buchanan.

RIVAL "DREADNOUGHTS."

[New York Tribune.]

The competition between Great Britain and Germany in battleship building was strikingly emphasized a few days ago by the practically simultaneous launching of an "Improved Dreadnought" by each of these powers. One was the Neptune, at Portsmouth, and the other the Ersatz Oldenburg, to be known as the Ostfriesland, at Wilhelmshaven. Both of these ships were launched September 30, the launching of the latter also marking the formal opening of the new naval harbor of Wilhelmshaven, which is henceforth to be the principal naval station of the empire.

Both of these vessels are far superior to the original Dreadnought, but they will doubtless be known by that generic name. Some experts have said of them that while the British ship is the larger, indeed the largest in the world, the German ship is the more powerful. The chief measurements of the two and of their famous precursor, and also of our own Delaware, may be compared as follows: Tonnage—Dreadnought, 17,900; Neptune, 20,250; Ostfriesland, 19,000; Delaware, 20,000. Horse-power—Dreadnought, 23,000; Neptune, 24,500; Ostfriesland, 20,000; Delaware, 25,000. Speed—Dreadnought, 21 knots; Neptune, 21 knots; Ostfriesland, 21 knots; Delaware, 21 knots. Main battery—Dreadnought, ten 12-inch; Neptune, ten 12-inch; Ostfriesland, twelve 11-inch; Delaware, ten 12-inch guns. The weight of gunfire of the Neptune will be only 9,120 poungs, against 14,204 of the Ostfriesland, which is the chief reason for regarding the latter ship as the more powerful.

At the present time Great Britain is far ahead of all other nations in Dreadnoughts or super-Dreadnoughts, as all-big-gun ships seem destined to be known. She has seven such vessels in commission, while no other power has one. America has two, recently launched. Germany has just given her first a trial trip. By the end of this year, however, Germany will have 13 such ships built or building, while Great Britain will have 16. Next year Great Britain will begin work on at least four more, while Germany's plans are not yet revealed, though it is expected that she will lay down three ships in each of the next two years. America, it may be recalled, has eight built or building, of which, however, two carry only eight big guns each. Of the formidable battleship cruisers, of the Inflexible class, Great Britain has three and will launch a fourth this month, while Germany has one and is building two more, and America has none. The outlook is, then, that—barring combinations which may be regarded as impossible—Britannia will continue to "rule the waves."

HOP RAISING IN NEW YORK STATE.

[Watertown Town.]

Years ago hop raising was a profitable industry of central New York, and a large part of the acreage of farms was devoted to this product, which at 10 and 11 cents a pound made a good profit. Then speculation forced the prices up to an extravagant figure and brewers commenced to use substitutes, so that hops declined to four or five cents a pound and it didn't pay to raise them. Hop yards were torn up and the land was turned to other uses. This has caused a shortage of supply and the pure food laws have denied the use of substitutes, so that hops are now selling at 30 cents a pound, and those farmers who retained their hop yards are getting rich out of them. All prices of farm products give large profits these days and it is the best business going. The cry of "Back to the farms" is growing more and more alluring.

PORTSMOUTH.

Sweet, president, the several vice presidents and Mrs. Warren R. Sherman, secretary and treasurer. By request of Mrs. Sherman, an assistant, Mrs. George G. Brawley, was chosen to perform her duties when she is absent. The treasurer's report showed a good balance in the treasury as the result of the year's work. In honor of her birthday Mrs. Sherman served sandwiches, crackers, cake, cocoa and grapes. There were 17 present, besides one guest.

The Ladies' Association of St. Paul's Church met with Miss Fannie Hicks Thursday afternoon.

Thurston Wins Providence Democratic Nomination for Mayor.

Democratic Ticket for the Assembly from Narragansett Filed Too Late.

James H. Thurston was nominated for mayor of Providence on the first ballot by the Democratic city convention Thursday evening. He received twice as many votes as Joseph F. Cole, his nearest competitor, and nearly four times as many as Peter C. Cannon. The vote of the convention was: Thurston, 26; Cole, 13; Cannon, 7; An entire absence of the bitterness which characterized last year's proceedings was noticeable, and while there were three candidates in the field, at no time was there any evidence of personal feeling. The large crowd which completely packed the room was orderly and at no time allowed its feeling for or against any of the candidates to flow over. From the beginning of the voting of the Second Ward delegation it was evident that some of the candidates had miscalculated their strength as it was expected that both Messrs. Cannon and Cole would cut into that delegation. The Third ward, which was supposed to be divided between Cannon and Cole, furnished another surprise when it delivered three of its votes to Mr. Thurston. Another noticeable feature of the voting was the casting of four votes for the winning candidate by the delegates from the Fifth. In years past this ward has been solidly lined up against Mr. Thurston, and in view of the fact that it is the district in which Mr. Cole lives the attitude of the delegates caused some surprise.

The names of the Democratic candidates for state senator and representative will not appear on the state ballot to be cast in Narragansett next month. The papers did not reach the State House until 11:15 Thursday morning, almost half a day late, the law fixing 12 o'clock Wednesday night as the last moment when nomination papers could be filed. Joshua C. Tucker is the candidate for senator and Edward C. Champlin the candidate for representative affected by the failure to file the papers in time. So far as known Narragansett is the only town in the state where any party which had a ticket in the field failed to comply with the law in due season. About 11 Thursday morning Secretary of State Parker received a telephone message from Joshua C. Tucker, candidate for state senator, asking if the Narragansett nomination papers had been received. Mr. Parker replied that they had not. Mr. Tucker stated that they were mailed somewhere between 8 and 10 o'clock Wednesday night at Narragansett, and should have arrived in time. He insisted that the fact that they were mailed before the time set for closing the nominations gave Mr. Parker the right to have the names placed on the ticket. A few minutes later the nomination papers arrived at the State House. The envelope was stamped at Narragansett Pier at 7 o'clock Thursday morning. Under the circumstances the secretary of state decided that he could not place the nominations on the ballot. He said he would be glad to do anything he could in the matter, but that his hands were tied. The nominations were made October 6, but were not certified to until Wednesday.

The stockholders of the Glenark Knitting Company have voted to sell all real estate and machinery owned by the company, divide the proceeds among the stockholders and liquidate the concern. The directors were instructed to do this and either to sell land, buildings and machinery together, or to clear the mill of machinery by selling in lots to suit purchasers, and then sell the land and buildings to some one desirous of operating the factory in the manufacture of other lines of goods. The mill contains machinery for manufacturing jersey cloth, stockinet, elderdown, rubber linings and the like. The Glenark Knitting Company is mainly owned by Boston, Providence and New Haven men, and is capitalized at $200,000. It was started in 1882. Its plant is taxed on a valuation of $75,000, of which $60,000 is real and $15,000 personal. The factory, when in full operation, employed 250 hands. It has not been run for some months. Frank A. Morrill, general manager of the company, will remain with the concern for a few months until the machinery is disposed of.

A story of being overturned in a power boat off the mouth of Narrow river by big seas, and narrow escapes from death of the three men in the party, is told by William G. Gould, formerly president of the South Kingstown town council. Mr. Gould, Benjamin Palmer and Joseph Eddy of Wakefield went fishing in Mr. Eddy's power boat. Good fishing was had, but the seas commenced to grow bigger, and by the time the men were ready to run for home they were rolling waves so high that the boat was nearly capsized several times. Finally, one huge wave turned the boat completely over, pinning Mr. Gould underneath. He managed to get out from under with the help of his two companions, and the three swam with the boat, slowly toward shore. The anchor, which was dragging behind, held the boat in about five or six feet of water, and the men were obliged to leave it there for the time and go ashore. Later the boat was recovered, but all the fish were lost. The men were all able to swim and this fact probably saved at least one life, if not more. The boat did not sink when it overturned, and the men were able to cling to it and rest when they became tired in their exertions to bring it near shore.

The honorary commercial commissioners of Japan, who are touring this country, under the auspices of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific coast, will arrive in Providence at 9 a. m. Friday, Oct. 22, instead of at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, as the original itinerary contemplated. The party, numbering 68, of whom 38 are Japanese, the majority speaking English, will take breakfast on their train. At 9 o'clock they will be met by a representative committee from the Board of Trade at the Union Station and escorted to the city hall, where Mayor Fletcher will welcome them to the city and tender them a brief reception. A half-hour inspection of the municipal building will follow. Automobiles will then be taken to the State House, where the party will be greeted by Governor Pothier and shown through the capitol. At 10 o'clock the party, having been sub-divided into groups, will visit the various manufacturing plants and industrial and educational institutions in which each is particularly interested. These will include the jewelry manufactories, machinery, tools, silverware and the educational and historical places. It is probable that in the afternoon the entire party will visit the Gorham Manufacturing Company's plant. About 6 o'clock special electric cars will convey the party to the Squantum Club, where it will be entertained by members of the club with a shore banquet at 7 o'clock. At the conclusion of the dinner the delegation will return to the city and go at once to the train for the night. It will leave for Boston at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. While the male members of the party are being escorted about the city to places of interest the women of the party, of whom there are six, four speaking English, will be entertained by the members of the Rhode Island Women's Club, of which Mrs. William H. Sweetland is president.

Henry Smith of Providence, a successful inventor, died at his residence in that city Thursday, after an illness covering 16 years, during the greater part of which he was confined to his house. Mr. Smith was born in South Walpole, Mass., October 30, 1831, and was the son of Mason and Rhoda Smith. While he had no opportunity for an extensive education, he early developed a talent for mechanical work, and upon going to Providence entered the employ of the late Henry C. Clarke as engineer. He was also for a number of years employed as dock engineer under Superintendent Hilton of the Providence & Worcester railroad. Upon the establishment of the Providence, Norfolk & Baltimore Steamship Company he was employed as dock engineer with that company, and continued to serve as such until the development of his lingering sickness in 1893. In the course of his work he invented a number of mechanical appliances, chief of which was a self-oiling attachment for hoisting blocks, trucks, etc., the latter being today in common use.

Rev. John Proude of Providence was re-elected general secretary at the quadrennial conference of the Primitive Methodist Church in America at Lowell, Mass., Thursday. Rev. Mr. Proude is pastor of the church at the corner of Smith and Ruggles streets. He will have as assistant Rev. James Ley of Pittsburg.

DEFENSE AN ALIBI.

Badnelly Will Attempt to Show He Was Not There.

State's Evidence in the Assault Case Given by Complainant and Officials.

The Badnelly case occupied all Thursday afternoon in the superior court. The state's principal witness, Mrs. Eisinger, was again on the stand and was there until the adjournment, apparently completing her evidence. It was said that her story was exactly the same as told in the district court. It was a severe ordeal, but the witness came through it very successfully.

She said Badnelly asked her to translate names from English to German the second day she was at Schreier's and Saturday, June 19 he was in the kitchen and pinched her cheek. The next day he came into the room and attacked her, she resisting his advances. She was thrown against the ice box and her hand scratched by the pin in his necktie. She left the house soon after 3 o'clock to go to her husband, met him on Thames street and told what had happened. She then met Officer Eckhardt, told him and went to the police station with him to file a complaint. Her shoulders and left foot were bruised.

Mr. Nolan took the complainant in hand for cross-examination. Austria was her birthplace, and she has been in the country nearly two years. Was in Newport about a week, when she secured the position at Schreier's through an employment office. Mr. Cross made an objection to the line of cross-examination, but Mr. Nolan was allowed to continue. Witness said that after her cheek had been pinched she told her husband she would not remain at the place longer than the necessary week's notice, but her husband was angry and desired her to leave at once. In her country it is necessary to give a week's notice and it was the day after that the attack was made.

After the attack the old lady, who was half blind, called for a glass of water. Witness was crying when she carried it to her. Witness then went to her room and remained there until the family returned. She then packed her things and left. She fixed the time when Badnelly came to the house as about 2:30 o'clock and was positive that it was later than 2 o'clock, and that it was about three quarers of an hour after the family went out to dinner. She told the family what had happened when they returned and Badnelly retorted that she was crazy, while Mrs. Schreier said she was lying. About 4:20 o'clock the case was continued until Friday.

Judge Stearns presided in the superior court this morning.

Ann Donnelly vs. William Starr Miller, Newport National Bank vs. Alexander Booth and Mary Morgan vs. Town of Jamestown were ready for trial. The first was set for March 21 and the last for the second Monday in March.

Stillman vs. Old Colony Street Railway, set for next Monday, has been passed. The court thought that by next Tuesday civil business may be reached. Next Thursday both courts are invited to attend the opening of the new court house in Kent county and Judge Stearns has been urged to be present. He realized that counsel had had little opportunity for civil business and hesitated about going. He had tried to find time to return here, but had not yet found it.

The cases of Peckham vs. Bertram, Peck vs. Shanahan, Shanahan vs. Easton, Same vs. Peck, O'Connor vs. Peckham and Silveria vs. Silveria were continued. The court said that disposes of Thursday's calendar.

The Badnelly case proceeded. Officer Eckhardt was called and testified. He has been 21 years connected with the police. He saw state's witness on the day in question; she looked like a woman who had been crying. Her eyes were red. She had a satchel, a pasteboard box and a bundle. In about 15 minutes he met her and her husband—about 3:30—and they addressed him, in German (witness speaks German). The court would not allow what was said to go in, as the statement was made by her husband. It was Sunday afternoon. They went towards the police station.

Jacob Aronson then testified. He saw state's witness, on the afternoon in question, near the Boston Store. Saw she was crying. She had her handkerchief up to her eyes and tears were running down her face.

Dr. William A. Sherman then testified. He has practiced seven years, was born here and graduated from the Harvard Medical School. Saw state's witness at her home, June 22, being called by the police. He saw there the pasteboard box, and in it a stained and torn undergarment. He examined the stains microscopically. Also examined the state's witness, finding bruises on four different parts of her body, and a scratch from a pin or needle on her hand. Witness was not allowed to testify as to what the state's witness told him. Dr. Sanborn was with witness when he examined the state's witness. The stains could be identified, for perhaps weeks or months; witness could not tell their age. Should say the bruises had been there several days.

Dr. Sanborn testified and corroborated Dr. Sherman. The bruises may have been there four days.

The husband of state's witness testified, through the interpreter (He is a notably clear interpreter). Has been in Newport since May 22 last. Met his wife Sunday afternoon near his home. For two or three seconds they stood still. She could not speak, she cried. It may have been 35 minutes past 3; could not state within five minutes. The court decided that witness might state what his wife told him, and defendant excepted. His wife told him Badnelly attempted to assault her. He did not know what to do at first. Went to the police station, Mrs Eckhardt. Was so excited that he went too far, at first. His wife made complaint at the police station.

When he met her she was crying and very excited; showed it by very hard crying; she could not compose herself at all. She then had a little satchel—not sure what else she had. Within a few days she showed him the bruises—Tuesday, he thought. He went to work after going to the police station. Worked until perhaps 2:30 Monday morning. Was so excited that he went to the city pier; went home after 4 a. m.

Sergeant Schneider of the Newport police testified. He was on duty the afternoon in question, and saw the state's witness and her husband about 3:40. She was very nervous, excited, had been crying; she made a complaint at that time. Had a bundle. She was in the police station about 15 minutes. She spoke English and witness understood what she meant. She came again Monday morning, to see the chief. Her husband and Officer Eckhardt were also there.

Mrs. Rogers, police matron for 16 years, testified. She saw state's witness Monday, at the latter's home, and examined her back, finding a large discolored spot. Also saw a scratch on her left hand. She said she was bruised all over. Did not examine farther. Went at the suggestion of the police.

Chief Crowley testified that he saw state's witness Monday (the next day) about 9 a. m., at the police station. She made a complaint against defendant, and in consequence witness made a complaint against him. At 11 that day witness saw the garments and took them into his custody. They were then as now.

Officer Eckhardt testified that Monday about 10:30 he took the garments to the station, being sent for them by the chief. They were then torn, as now, and stained.

Officer Tobin corroborated as to their condition.

The state rested.

Mr. Nolan had the jury sent out and made a motion that defendant be discharged, because there was no corroborative evidence as to who committed the assault. The court instantly denied the motion. It is settled that a judge cannot tell a jury to acquit, in Rhode Island.

Mr. Burdick then opened for the defense. A serious crime is charged. All any man who is a defendant in such a case can do is to deny it and try to show where he was at the time in question. This being so, it was expected to show defendant's acts for all that day—he was hunting for a dish washer for his restaurant.

Eugene Schreier affirmed. He testified that he has lived 25 years in Newport, Joseph Badnelly is his son-in-law and has lived nearly four years in his family. Knows state's witness. She came June 16 and remained until the twentieth. The family was witness and wife, his mother-in-law, daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Badnelly and a guest.

They had dinner at Mr. Badnelly's restaurant about 2:30, leaving the house at 2:25. A few minutes—about two minutes—after they were seated witness saw Mr. Badnelly in the park, opposite. Saw him cross, go towards the back door, then come into the front part. There was a delay of perhaps three minutes before he come into the front part and he remained there until witness left about five minutes before 3. Fixes 2:25 as the hour of leaving the house, because it did not take them over 20 minutes to eat. He looked at his watch when going out of the house. It was 2:25.

On returning he found the family, and state's witness made a charge against Mr. Badnelly, who called her "a —— liar." She went away, carrying a small satchel and a box (like the one containing the garments, and shown in court). Witness thinks she was crying when she went out. Had seen her about her work, crying. That morning Mrs. Badnelly went out, about 9. Was at the restaurant, at the cigar case. Witness left her at the restaurant. Two, waiters, Wright and Miller, waited on witness at the restaurant.

In cross-examination witness said the excitement of that day wouldn't put him in possession of the exact words used. Could not make out what state's witness was saying. She was talking quick and a great deal. Had been crying, but did not appear nervous. Witness often before saw her so. Can't remember anything she said. Can't tell whether she spoke English or German. When pinned down, witness thought she spoke both. Couldn't tell what anybody said except that Mrs. Schreier said to Badnelly, "This woman accuses you of attacking her," and Badnelly said "You are a —— liar."

At 12:38 the court interrupted for the noon recess, excusing spare jurors until Monday at 11.

The case is drawing an audience limited only to the capacity of the courtroom. Thursday afternoon and again this morning many were refused admission, because every seat was occupied and standing room is not allowed. Outside the door, however, there was a gathering of "standees," listening to what they could catch.

It looked like one session just before noon, but the wind favored and a change came. By 1:30 the sun was shining in good style and it looked as though the storm was over.

—The class of 1911 of the Rogers High School met Thursday afternoon to choose the class colors. Blue and gold were decided on, and a committee consisting of Misses D. Baker, G. Miller and S. Watson and Messrs. W. Curry, F. Shanahan and P. Fletcher was chosen to select the pins. Miss Almira Coffin was elected assistant treasurer.

—The weekly parade at the Training Station Thursday was the last of the season and Admiral Rodgers, commandant of the Naval Station, Narragansett Bay, officiated as reviewing officer. The spectators have naturally dwindled in number from the summer crowds. It is currently reported that there will be orders for a change of some of the officers of the Station in a few days.

—The Grey Ledge tea house at Jamestown has been closed, after a successful season, there having been a large patronage on the part of automobile and carriage parties throughout the summer, for light lunches and substantial dinners. Mrs. Wilmerding will remain a few days, while mechanics make certain repairs, and will then go to New York for the winter, returning in June to open the house for another season.

The places mentioned by President Zelaya as having been captured by the revolutionists are seaports on the coast of the Caribbean sea, with the exception of Rama, which is an inland town about 35 miles from Bluefields.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Oct. 15.—The revolutionists are now in possession of Bluefields, Corinto, Greytown, Rivas, Cape Gracias, Rama, and San Juan del Norte. President Zelaya is gathering the government forces for an attack on the revolutionists at Rama and San Juan del Norte. Estrada's activities are limited practically to the towns already occupied by his soldiers.

RAMA OFFICIALLY CLOSED.

Department Informed of Proclaiming of Martial Law at Managua.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—A telegram dated today was received at the State Department from the United States consulate at Managua, Nicaragua, stating in effect that the port of Rama, Bluefields, has been officially closed. This is explained to mean that for the time being Rama is not a port of entry and the government will not be responsible for customs and other duties collected by the insurgent forces. It does not mean that the port will be blockaded. The telegram also states that martial law at Managua will be proclaimed today. This was all the information received at the State Department up to noon as to the progress of the Nicaraguan revolution.

This government, so far, has taken no measures whatever to protect American interests, nor is it believed that any are needed at this time.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS PRESENT

Brotherhood of St. Andrew's Convention Continues With Addresses and General Discussion.

G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark University, and Rev. Paul B. Bull, C. R., Royal Navy, of Mirfield, England, addressed the Brotherhood of St. Andrew at the Mathewson Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Providence, Thursday evening. The subject was "The Consecration of Boyhood," President Hall taking up the discussion of the mental, moral and physical development, and Father Bull speaking of the spiritual development. Owing to a wreck on the Worcester division, the arrival of President Hall was delayed until just before 9 o'clock. Father Bull, who had been scheduled to follow President Hall, was called on first and introduced to the audience as a man who had done a remarkable work in England among boys of all classes, reference being made to his service in the war in South Africa as chaplain and to his present work in the navy.

At the afternoon session, addresses was given by Rev. R. P. Williams, rector of Trinity Church, Washington, "The Threefold Example of St. Andrew" was the topic of discussion, and this general topic was divided into three sub-divisions, the first, "He first findeth his own brother * * * and he brought him to Jesus," being discussed by H. D. W. English, first vice president of the brotherhood of Pittsburg; the second, "There is a lad here," by Rev. F. H. Sill, C. H. C., Kent, Conn.; and the last, "And there were certain Greeks * * * saying, 'Sir, we would see Jesus,'" by Professor Charles Sears Baldwin, Yale University, New Haven.

Rev. J. Francis Cooper, D. D., of Providence, was introduced as representing the 600 chapters of the Methodist Brotherhood, and his expressions of the sympathies of his denomination were applauded.

With addresses and general discussion of many subjects relating to church work and social uplife, the Brotherhood continued the sessions today, the devotional service which preceded the opening of the forenoon session being held in Grace Church. Among the speakers were several of the foremost theologians of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, and many of equal prominence in other pursuits, who have come from all parts of the country to attend the convention. Two of those announced to address the assemblage today were J. C. Astredo of San Francisco, whose office in the brotherhood is "the bishop's aid for boys" and whose duty is to keep in touch with all forms of boys' work in his state, and George Wharton Pepper, a prominent churchman and lawyer of Philadelphia, who is also much interested in boys' work.

BYRNES—ROBERTSON.

A pretty wedding took place at St. Mary's rectory Thursday evening, when Mr. William B. Byrnes was united in marriage to Miss Katherine V. Robertson by Rev. William B. Megan. The bride wore a white silk princess gown and hat to match and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Nellie Robertson, who wore a yellow silk dress and large black picture hat and carried tea roses. The duties of best man were performed by Mr. McDonnell. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Byrnes left for New York on their wedding trip.

NOT IN SCHOOL HOURS.

Notice Served on Theatres That Children, Unaccompanied, Must Not Attend.

Thursday afternoon Truant Officer Topham called upon the local theatres and served notice that they must not permit children of school age to attend their amusements during school hours, unless accompanied by their parents. He added that he would drop in occasionally to learn how the order was being carried out. Some time since the Charity Organization made some inquiry at the various theatres to learn how the state law on this subject was being observed. Apparently this is the result of the inquiry, and it was not unexpected by the managers. They claim that there has been but little patronage by children during school hours and they of course were not in position to know whether the few who did attend were playing truant or were legally out of school. In a recent case some children went to a theatre and said, when asked why they were not at school, that they had been sent home by the doctor. Each month in the proceedings of the School Committee the number of children who are debarred from school because of contagious disease in their homes is reported.

THE EVENING SCHOOLS.

Admission to the public evening schools, which will open next Monday for the various classes, can be had by applying at the Townsend Industrial, with the exception of the class in stenography and typewriting, for which permits are given at Superintendent Lull's office. The number of this class is limited to the number of typewriters available, and the applications already recived almost reach that limit. There are other classes which should prove attractive, including those of drawing and bookkeeping, outside of the elementary classes. These are designed for young men and women who desire training in these branches, to improve their condition if the opportunity offers. With so many attending school as regularly as is now the case, the number who can be accommodated in the elementary classes is more limited than it once was, but still there are many who could to advantage take a course in the elementary schools.

Billard Company Files Papers for Increase of Capital Stock.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 15.—The Billard Company of Meriden, formed by special act of the last legislature to be the holding corporation for the Boston & Maine stock standing in the name of John L. Billard of Meriden, has voted to increase its capital stock from $50,000 to $2,000,000, and papers to that effect, bearing the date of October 13, have just been filed with the secretary of state. The certificate is signed by John L. Billard, Samuel Hemingway and L. L. Hemingway. The fee paid to the state for the increase was $1,950. The certificate follows:

"The undersigned, being a majority of the directors of the Billard Company, a corporation chartered by the general assembly at its January session, 1909, being duly sworn, hereby certify that at a meeting of the stockholders held for that purpose, a written notice whereof, stating the day, hour, place and purpose thereof, had been given by the secretary to each stockholder in accordance with law, an increase of its capital stock was authorized by a vote of all the stock of said company then issued and outstanding, from $50,000, divided into 500 shares of $100 each, to $2,000,000, divided into 20,000 shares of $100 each, by the issuance of 19,500 shares of $100 each."

Squad of Marines Land to Help Fight San Francisco Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Bearing a quaint lantern at the end of a long pole, a squad of Japanese marines from cruiser Idzuma landed here late last night and marched through the streets in double-quick time to the scene of a fire in the factory district. They had seen the flames and had come to help the firemen. The marines were in command of Lieutenant Yamaneuchi. The firemen found little use for the marines, as the fire was soon under control.

He leaves a widow, three daughters and one son, and was 74 years old. Captain Grant formerly sailed out of Rockport, Me., in deep-sea sailing vessels.

Four Vessels of the Atlantic Flotilla Scheduled to Visit Southern Ports.

Torpedo boats Stringham, Dupont, Biddle and Shubrick have been ordered to make these visits: To Savannah, Ga., from November 1 to 7, to participate in a carnival; to Wilmington, N. C., November 8, to be present during the visit of President Taft to that place November 9, and to Jacksonville, Fla., from November 22 to 27, to participate in a carnival. Upon the return of these four boats to Charleston, S. C., they will be placed in reserve.

The other boats of the Atlantic torpedo flotilla—the Worden, Blakely, Stockton, MacDonough, Thornton, Tingey, Wilkes and Porter, have been ordered placed in reserve at Charleston upon their arrival, which is expected early in November.

This will make travel to the home quite clear of the grove proper, which common report has it is to be developed into a nature park for the public use.

AMENDMENTS ENDORSED,

Fair Re-Districting of the Cities and Towns Pledged.

Platform Adopted by the Republicans at Their State Convention.

The following is the full platform of the Republican party, adopted at the annual state convention:

"The Republican party of Rhode Island, in convention assembled, submits to the people of Rhode Island the following declaration of principles:

"We congratulate this state and the country on the promptness and efficiency by which the Republican administration in Congress secured the passage of the recent tariff bill, which will assure to the citizens of this country, and especially this state, a season of prosperity more universal and more enduring than they have heretofore enjoyed. This measure protects American labor more directly and exclusively than any enactments heretofore passed. It is criticised only by those who always have been, and are, opposed to the protection of American labor and American industries. If given a fair trial this measure will add wealth, comfort and happiness to every laborer, farmer, operative, and to every industry, great and small.

"The people of the state of Rhode Island are justly proud of the fact that the enactment of this important measure was largely the result of the efforts of the eminent statesmen, Nelson W. Aldrich, senior Senator from this state. In behalf of the people of busy Rhode Island, we express our gratitude to Senator Aldrich for his efficient and untiring efforts in advancing American prosperity. We rejoice in the public utterance of President William H. Taft—great even among the great Presidents of the United States—that 'Senator Aldrich is certainly one of the ablest financial leaders in either house of Congress.' The puerile attacks upon him in the Democratic platform, and by a few Democrats, who talk more than they think, is only further evidence of the blundering propensities of that party and its unfitness to deal with Rhode Island affairs. In future years, when these Democrats, now hungry for office, have been forgotten, the name of Nelson W. Aldrich will be remembered among th most illustrious in the history of the state.

"We approve the able and dignified administration of the affairs of this state by Governor Aram J. Pothier. He has performed the duties of his office with courtesy, efficiency and to the satisfaction of all citizens.

"We gladly call attention to the legislative record of the General Assembly of 1909, controlled in both branches by a large majority of Republicans. This record evidences the fact that all laws passed were in the interest of the whole people, and for the advancement of morality, and in aid of business activity.

"The building of good roads received an impetus so extensive that it is now declared, on excellent authority, that for the money expended Rhode Island now possesses the longest mileage and the best roads of any state in the Union. All this has been accomplished without increasing the burdens of taxation upon the people. It should not be forgotten that when this great enterprise was first started by the Republican party the Democratic party openly declared against it. The Republican party promises to advance still further this most valuable public improvement.

"In the management of our public institutions, and in the erection of substantial buildings requiring large expenditures of money, the trusted servants of the state have acted wisely and economically. Our public armories are among the largest and best in the country. Our charitable institutions have been amply and generously provided for. While our enemies predicted a deficit in the fiscal year of 1909, the appropriations made by the legislature of 1909 were guarded with such prudence, wisdom and economy that a substantial surplus remains after paying all expenditures for the year. The bonded indebtedness of the state is very small in comparison with its vast wealth. Few states can make comparison with us in this respect.

"The question of taxation is being diligently considered by a commission appointed by the Republican administration who will report at the next session of the General Assembly, and we pledge our assistance to the enactment of taxation laws in the principle that the burden of taxes shall be so distributed, as to bear most heavily upon those best able to sustain them.

"In this connection we deem it best that the legislature, without regard to party consideration, take such action as may seem best concerning the federal income tax. It is a financial question, and should not be considered as a question of party politics.

"In conformity to the pledges of the Republican party, three amendments to the state constitution have been submitted to the voters of the state for their decision:

"First, an amendment, providing

REAR ADMIRAL MILLIGAN DEAD.

Shared Part of Honor of Taking the Oregon Around the Horn in 1908.

Rear Admiral Robert T. Milligan, U. S. N. (retired), who, as chief engineer of the Oregon, in the summer of 1908 shared with Rear Admiral Clark, her commanding officer, the credit of bringing that vessel from the Pacific to the waters of the West Indies in time to take part in the sea fight off Santiago, died at Annapolis Thursday night of an acute attack of a heart trouble from which he had been a sufferer for some time. The death, however, was sudden, as he had not been confined to the house during the day.

At the close of the Spanish-American war he was advanced five numbers in his grade for his work in the campaign. The admiral was born in Philadelphia in 1843 and entered the navy when he was 23 years old. He served on the Mackinaw during the Civil war, participating in the attack on Fort Fisher, the fall of Wilmington and the fall of Richmond and Petersburg. Before joining the Oregon and the voyage around the Horn he had been commandant of the Norfolk navy yard.

RASH ALL OVER BODY

Awful, Crusted, Weeping Eczema on Little Sufferer—A Score of Treatments Prove Dismal Failures.

CURE ACHIEVED BY CUTICURA.

"My little boy had an awful rash all over his body and the doctor said it was eczema. It was terrible and used to water awfully. Any place the water went it would form another sore and it would become crusted. A score or more physicians failed utterly and dismally in their efforts to remove the trouble. Then I was told to use the Cuticura Remedies. I got a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and before we had used half the Resolvent I could see a change in him. In about two months he was entirely well. George F. Lambert, 139 West Centre St., Mahanoy City, Pa., Sept. 26 and Nov. 4, 1907."

TWO HIGHWAY COMMISSIONS.

To Widen Third Street, and Lay Out New Fifth Ward Street.

Report on Bateman Avenue Extension Referred Back for Correction.

The Board of Aldermen was busy on the matter of roads at its meeting Thursday evening. Commissions were appointed to widen Third street and lay out the new street from Wellington avenue to West Narragansett avenue, while the matter of the Bateman Avenue extension was referred back to the commission which looked over that matter, for a "proper report," which means a report in accordance with the law and the decree under which it was appointed. Mayor Boyle called attention to a number of committees appointed some time since which had not reported and there was a promise of a rounding-up for a closing of business. All the members were present.

The following weekly pay rolls were approved: Streets and highways, $1,919.80; police, $785.42; fire department, $468.88; city officers, $179.25; public buildings, $11.54; firemen in theatres, $31.

Bills for caucus wardens and clerks, $50; Robert Wolfenden, repairs to the City Hall, $947.20, and Alexander Nicol, alterations, etc., to the Mumford School, $56.60, were approved.

A communication was received from Samuel W. Marsh, which stated that some time since he had removed from the Old cemetery the remains of Samuel J. and Mary C. Marsh, relatives, and suggested that the lot thus made vacant be granted to Daniel A. Boss, a native of Newport. The communication was received and the use of the lot was granted to Daniel A. Boss.

Petitions of Benjamin A. Peckham and the heirs of Mary Donovan, for reduction of taxes under the veterans' exemption law, were referred to the tax assessors.

The petition of W. H. Tibbetts and others, for improvements, was referred to the street commissioner with power, if he has any money for the work.

The petition of Owen Flynn for a peddler's license was laid on the table.

The new Young Men's Christian Association hall was given an exhibition hall license.

An appraisal of damages by dogs to hens and chickens of Edward Wyatt of Middletown was ordered paid according to law. The report showed 27 hens and 5 chickens killed, at a cost to Wyatt of $25. With the cost of appraisal this meant a total of $34.30, most of which Newport must pay.

The city solicitor had ready the decree for the appointment of commissioners for the widening of Third street and it was read and passed. It provides for a widening to a width of 50 feet, from Van Zandt avenue north. Lewis Brown, Jeremiah A. Sullivan and William S. Rogers were appointed commissioners.

Mr. Kelly called up the matter of a new road from Wellington avenue to West Narragansett avenue, for which petitions from a number of summer residents and others had been received some time since, the matter coming under the head of petitions of Ellen F. Vanderbilt and others. There was a decree ready in this case and it was read and passed. It provides for the laying out of a roadway 40 to 50 feet wide from the corner of West Narragansett avenue and Marchant street to the corner of Clinton street and Wellington avenue. E. C. O'Neill, Patrick J. Morgan and Thomas H. Reagan were appointed commissioners.

Mr. Shepley moved that the board refer back to the commissioners, the report on the Bateman Avenue extension, for a proper report. Mayor Boyle suggested that different language be used. Mr. Shepley said the city solicitor's report stated that the report made by the commissioners was not according to law and they should make a proper report. The city clerk suggested that the commissioners be requested to report in accordance with the decree under which they were appointed, and that is the language which was finally used.

Mayor Boyle suggested that during the past six months a number of committees had been appointed, but there did not seem to be any reports coming in. A number of committees were named offhand and some reports of progress were made. A schedule of the committees will be prepared and there will be a call for reports at the next meeting.

Philip Kraut was granted a peddler's license.

Alderman Shepley said the opening of the spring on the Boulevard was awaiting a petition to reach the Board of Health.

There being no further business the board adjourned.

BY THE NAVAL RESERVES.

Vacancies on Several Committees Filled and An Athletic Committee Elected.

The Newport Naval Reserves held a business meeting Thursday evening, to fill vacancies on several committees and in the list of officers for the remainder of the year, and to elect an athletic committee. Lieutenant Charles E. Lawton, commanding the company, presided. William Anthony was elected a member of the board of trustees to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George Maher. Ensign Campbell and Arthur Tilley were elected members of the auditing committee, and Frank O'Connell a member of the entertainment committee, to fill vacancies. Owing to the resignation of the treasurer and financial secretary, the duties of these officers were placed on the recording secretary, Frank Harrington, for the remainder of the year.

The following athletic committee was elected—Mathew Faerber, Alexander Gillies, Frank C. Parsonage, Henry T. Harvey, Jr., William Bowler. This committee will elect a manager for the basket ball team.

During the meeting Lieutenant Lawton spoke of the importance of attending the drills, which are to begin next Thursday evening, saying that a number of new orders have been issued by the adjutant general's office and strict attention to them is essential if the Newport Reserves are to keep the high rank they have always held in the naval battalion and state militia.

POLICE COURT CASES.

In the district court this morning the case against John Saunders, charged with assault with a knife and the cutting of Peter Coole, at the Sakonnet Hotel September 12, came up. In view of the fact that witnesses to the affray could not be found the charge was altered to one of simple assault, to which Saunders pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to 30 days in the Newport County jail.

Chief Manchester was in this morning with one prisoner, a woman, who pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and was fined. She did not have any money and went to jail.

AMENDMENTS ENDORSED.

for a re-apportionment and enlargement of the house of representatives. We earnestly urge all citizens to vote to approve this amendment, and if it is adopted the Republican party pledges itself to divide the large towns and cities into districts with justice and fairness to all parties. We will follow faithfully the language of the amendment, to wit: 'Such districts shall be as nearly equal in population and as compact in territory as possible.' By the language of this amendment gerrymandering is impossible and unconstitutional.

"Second, the amendment making the lieutenant governor the presiding officer in the senate and grand committee. In every state in the Union except Rhode Island the lieutenant governor is the presiding officer of the senate and grand committee. We entirely believe in this amendment and no reason exists for its defeat.

"Third, an amendment giving the governor the veto power which cannot be overruled except by a three-fifths vote. We confidently submit that this is a most substantial veto power, and, while we are aware that all Republicans do not agree on this measure, we sincerely urge upon them that it is substantially in conformity with the form of government in nearly all the states of this Union, and, notwithstanding the public utterances of certain Democrats, that if a Democratic governor had the veto power he would veto all measures until the Democratic party was given such legislation as it desired, we believe that no executive who appreciates the duties of his position and the established practice of veto power would call to his aid the veto for unfair and extrinsic purposes. We therefore request the adoption of this amendment.

"We approve the proposition submitted to the people for their approval or refection authorizing the issue of state bonds to an amount not exceeding $500,000 for the acquisition Providence, Pawtucket and East Providence. We believe with the commission that this expenditure, instead of being a burden on taxpayers of the state, will at no distant day be an assured and increasing source of revenue.

"The Republican party has been most fortunate in its selection of the general officers of the state. They have been men of the highest character, and have proven themselves efficient and honest officials. In their various departments no suspicion of graft or scandal has been made and the administration of their several offices has been to the entire satisfaction of all the people of the state, and, relying on the patriotism and good judgment of the electors of Rhode Island, the convention presents the candidates of the Republican party nominated this day with full confidence that these trusted servants will be re-elected.

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Social events have been somewhat numerous the past week, several occurring each night. Thursday evening a number from Middletown attended in Newport the wedding of Miss Esther Ely Peckham, second daughter of Mrs. Herman F. Peckham, to Mr. Thomas Croft Vayro, Middletown and Portsmouth were also represented at the concert at the new Young Men's Christian Association building in Newport.

The weather was so unfavorable Thursday evening as to prevent a large attendance at the Aquidneck Grange meeting. State Lecturer Charles R. Magoon of East Greenwich and Mr. George Howland of Jamestown, deputy for Newport county, were in attendance. Their coming was quite unexpected and the evening was to have been devoted to progressive whist. So few were present that the company disbanded early. The guests were entertained by Worthy Master N. Horace Peckham.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ridley of New Bedford are visiting relatives in town.

The rain caused the postponement of several gatherings to have occured this afternoon.

COOK SAYS HE OWED BARRILL.

Declares Others Offered Money for Information About Mt. McKinley.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—"We have learned that money has been offered for information regarding my ascent to Mount McKinley," said Dr. Cook today.

"I have not paid any particular attention to the talk regarding that trip because I did not think it was worth while. I will not speak of it until Barrill returns East. He is coming East now. Since my return to this country I have had only a short message from him. That was in answer to my telegram asking him to come East, and he replied he could not do so at that moment."

"Is there any reason why Barrill should make the assertion that you did not reach the summit of Mount McKinley?" Dr. Cook was asked.

"He was not paid in full for all of his service, but neither were others. It was just an oversight."

"Do you think that would make him vindictive?"

"I do not think it should."

Regarding his ascent of Mount McKinley, Dr. Cook emphatically said that he had sufficient evidence to prove the statement that he was there. Asked if he had other photographs than the most frequently published one of himself on the summit of the peak, Dr. Cook said:

"That picture was not taken of me. That was a picture of Barrill. We took pictures from every possible view, but many of them did not turn out well and were not published."

Expressing astonishment at the statement of Edward Barrill, Dr. Cook maintained at Atlantic City today before coming here that he ascended to the summit of Mount McKinley and that if an expedition will follow the route he took it will find the records deposited by him at the summit of the peak. Referring to Barrill's sworn statement, Dr. Cook said:

"I cannot really understand why Barrill should have made such a statement as the newspapers reproduce it he was acting under normal conditions. I must say it surprises me. We were always on the most friendly terms. Until I know of the conditions under which this alleged affidavit was made, I will make no specific reply to it. My account of the trip has been published. For the present it is the bald statement of one man against another.

"If an expedition of experienced mountaineers will follow the route that I took and will go to the top of Mount McKinley they will find there the records which I deposited on attaining the summit of the mountain in the manner described in my book, 'To the Top of the Continent.'"

"I have always had the most complete confidence in Barrill and cannot comprehend why he should have sworn to such a story. The fact that General Hubbard is proprietor of the Globe throws a light upon the affair which was not previously apparent. I shall see Barrill, I hope, when I reach New York, but I do not know when or where.

"It appears to me that there was money behind his statement. He was perhaps annoyed that he had not been paid his wages, but that was not my fault and I remedied the matter as soon as I got back from the Pole."

Dr. Cook refused emphatically to enter into further details, saying he would reserve his comments until the time when he could be assured that the alleged affidavits, was genuine and also as to the circumstances under which it was obtained from Barrill.

Dr. Cook met with a hearty reception here. Several thousand persons cheered him as he stepped out of the station. A military guard of honor, composed of the city troops, presented arms as he entered his carriage and the troops acted as the explorer's escort through the city. A reception was held at the Hotel Marlborough-Blenheim at which the members of the city council were presented to Dr. Cook by Mayor Stoy.

BARRILL'S STATEMENT UPHELD.

Photographer of Expedition Swears it is Correct.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 14.—Walter P. Miller of this city, photographer of Dr. Cook's Mount McKinley expedition, has made an affidavit corroborating the sworn statement of Edward Barrill, published in New York today. When Mr. Barrill's statement was shown to him Mr. Miller said it was correct. Miller says he has photographs and maps which fully confirm the statement of Barrill.

The affidavits of Barrill, Miller and others were sworn to in the office of James M. Ashton, an attorney of Tacoma, who was retained by certain interests in New York, said to be the Peary Arctic Club, to investigate the alleged ascent of the great Alaska peak by Dr. Cook. Mr. Ashton, an attorney, and Belmore Brown, mountain climber, who was a member of Dr. Cook's Mount McKinley expedition, left Tacoma for New York a week ago, presumably on business connected with the Mount McKinley investigation.

COUNTESS SZECHENYI'S SAWMILL.

A Budapest despatch says that Hungarian aristocratic circles are perturbed over the act of Countess Szechenyi, formerly Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, who recently purchased a large sawmill at Remete Vasgyar. Connected with the mill there is an extensive manufacturing plant which turns out all kinds of cabinet work. The Hungarian women of high rank admire the young woman's enterprise and envy her business ability, but hint that it is a startling departure on the part of one of Hungary's noblest families. They deprecate the business move of the countess on the ground that it is beneath the dignity of her station in life.

Fascinating Fashions

FALL OPENING

—OF—

This Controlling Dame's Latest Decrees in Feminine Attire Here on Saturday, October 16, 1909.

A UNIVERSAL INVITATION IS EXTENDED.

MUSIC AS USUAL IN ATTENDANCE.

Why Do Hundreds of Newport Women Wait.

The Subject of considerable Store Controversy has been occasioned of late by the apparent tardiness of The Lappin Store's Fall and Winter 1909-10 Openings in consequence we deem it advisable to enlighten our many patrons that perhaps they may more fully appreciate the grand opportunities presented and to be enjoyed by shopping at this ever growing establishment.

It is clearly evident to some if not most minds that the final finishing touches of Fall and Winter Dame Fashions decrees are not complete with any year until Oct 1st to the 15th.

This is answer to those that may inquire why so late, Simply to be and to show at our opening what is newest and most correct, as this store has always stood since its prominence in retail society.

At the top for correctness is not one, but all things.

As To The Lappin Store Qualities.

Now in this new Season The Lappin Store is showing again the qualities that have given it a peculiar and distinctive place among the stores of this City. The goods you want are here. There is such immense diversity that we believe no possible taste or need can fail to be satisfied. There are many stocks which in completeness and character are in fact without a rival. These things have been characteristic here for many years. They will continue to be so. They will reach a still higher level as we add still greater facilities to the disposition for well doing.

The reason people come to The Lappin is because they are very sure to find something better for the money than they can get anywhere else.

Each season finds these conditions more evident and the people more generally aware of them. Of all the reasons why public preference is given to The Lappin Store.

The sense of security is perhaps not the least. Security in the quality of the merchandise assurance that before it reaches The Lappin Store counters every article must have met and passed the most critical examination.

Security in the cost a comfortable assurance that The Lappin Store prices are always fair and advantageous to the purchaser.

In these early days of Autumn when everyone is busy purchasing for the new season, isn't it a satisfaction to know such a store and to call on its service?

As To The New Fall Stocks,

In all the newness and beauty of these splendid Autumn Stocks, it is well to remember that you will find the True Gold of quality.

This is a characteristic, Newport women have come to rely on at The Lappin Store as they rely on the soundness of the money they spend.

We go to unusual length sometimes to make this store deserved to be called the STORE OF QUALITY. The very least priced thing that is good will be found here too, in as complete variety as more costly merchandise.

Much that you find here is made expressly for The Lappin Store and is in some special way different from the ordinary.

The true economies in buying here come not only because prices are lowest, as they often are but because the thing bought may be depended on for extra service and satisfactoriness.

There never was a better time to test these things for yourself. And the facts are worth your knowing.

CONDITIONS IN THE ARMY.

Inspector Gen. al's Report Criticises Some, Commends Others.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Treating practically of every branch of the army, the annual report of Inspector General E. A. Garlington, made public today, is devoted to careful comment on existing conditions, some of which are criticised and others commended. Generally speaking, the chief belief is expressed that the army is greatly in need of increase in the infantry and field artillery and of re-organization of the cavalry, and the opinion is advanced that legislation to this end would no doubt be facilitated by quartering the troops where they would come in close contact with the people.

There was an increase of about 40 per cent in defects, irregularities and deficiencies reported per post during the past year. The irregularities and deficiencies are, however, in the bluntly expressed opinion of General Garlington, such as may be remedied if officers would make a reasonable effort to master the regulations and exercise good common sense.

Forcibly the report presents the problem of absenteeism of officers from their command, there being general complaint from all directions. It is said that the service is more or less crippled by this practice. General Garlington declares it should be determined whether the valuable services rendered the government by officers in certain lines of detached duty compensate for the loss of efficiency in their own organizations due to their absence, and for the discontent of the officers who have to perform the extra duty without extra pay, while those absent frequently receive extra emolument.

In the chapter devoted to the annual physical tests inaugurated at the direction of President Roosevelt, General Garlington concludes with the observation that a scheme requiring each officer to take exercise commensurate with his duties and age during the entire year, as shown by personal monthly reports, would better accomplish the purpose sought by Mr. Roosevelt's orders than the practice now in vogue.

SEQUEL TO BOMB OUTRAGES.

Well Known Swedish Scientist, Suspected of Crime, Insane.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—As an extraordinary sequel to recent bomb outrages in Sweden, Professor Martin Ekenburg, doctor of philosophy and a well known Swedish scientist, has lost his reason, and today was removed to an asylum. The professor's mental condition may be directly attributed to the knowledge that he was suspected of complicity in, if not the author of, the crimes, although he frantically protested his innocence.

On October 9 Jon Hammer, director of the Swedish Export Association, received in his mail a bomb which in exploding tore away the thumb and first finger of his right hand, while flying bits of metal cut his face. On the same day another bomb was mailed to John Sjoelsoim, a manufacturer of Gothenburg. The nature of the latter package was suspected and the intended victim escaped. At the time it was charged that the crimes were committed by a secret committee of the Young Socialist party, which has sentenced to death certain anti-socialists. Professor Ekenburg, who is a resident of this city, recently returned from Stockholm and it was just long after the outrages that rumors connecting his name with the bombs reached his ears. Sjoelsoim was a personal friend of Ekenburg, and the fact that he was suspected preyed on his mind so that last night he became violently insane.

WORLD POINTS FINGER OF SHAME.

Spain and exhorts the Liberals of all shades of opinion to rise "against a government which treats as anarchists those who do not kneel before the clerical spectre."

The Official Gazette publishes a decree restoring th old system which permits a payment of money indemnity in lieu of military service.

The Univerco Catholic says it is not surprised at the Ferrer manifestations, which it considers an indication that "the anarchistic and Masonic forces af inspiring a rebellion against all ideas of government and justice." The paper denounces certain Spanish newspapers, which it says are trying to provoke disorders by reprinting accounts of what has happened abroad.

ITALIAN STRIKE UNABATED.

Ferrer Sympathizers Make Inflammatory Speeches in Rome.

ROME, Oct. 15.—The general strike continued unabated today, by the direction of Ferrer sympathizers. Even the Radical Republican and Socialist newspapers were unable to issue their editions. Nearly 20,000 workmen held an imposing meeting, which was presided over by the Republican deputy, Mazza. Inflammatory speeches denouncing the execution of Ferrer were made, the speakers including Republican Deputy Barzilai and Socialist Deputy Morgari. The latter assailed Spanish reactionism and also attacked the Vatican, which he said, through its clergy, throughout the world, "represents anti-progress."

Military measures had been taken to prevent any serious disorders, and nothing more grave occurred than the smashing of a few shop windows and the breaking of several lampposts.

Several Italians, who have acted as Spanish consuls, have resigned in sympathy with the Ferrer movement. Notwithstanding the extra police and military measures to safeguard the Vatican and save the Pope from insult, Cardinal Merry del Val today personally imparted imperative instructions to the gendarmes and the Swiss guard to watch all entrances to the Vatican, and also the boundaries of the Vatican gardens.

FERRER RIOTERS FRUSTRATED.

Driven from Spanish Embassy at Lisbon by Charge of Police.

LISBON, Oct. 15.—The police today frustrated an attack on the Spanish embassy by Ferrer sympathizers. As they approached the officer charged on the rioters and revolver shots were exchanged, though without serious injury to any one.

The Spanish consulates throughout Portugal are guarded. At the headquarters of the Republican Club flags are displayed at half-mast.

CATHEDRAL INVADED.

Ferrer Rioters in Toulon Break Up the Evening Service.

TOULON, France, Oct. 15.—During a Ferrer demonstration last night the rioters invaded the cathedral and broke up the evening service. The police later drove the disturbers from the church and arrested many of them.

ARMY OFFICERS INSTRUCTED.

Lieutenants Lahm and Humphreys Make Flights with Wright.

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 15.—Two early morning flights were made at the government aerodrome today. At 7:34 Lieutenant Lahm climbed into the seat next to Mr. Wright and a flight of five minutes was made. A few minutes later Lieutenant Humphreys, the other student officer, took Lahm's place and the machine was in the air about three minutes. During both flights, which were made in practically calm air, the officers held their hands on the extra set of levers which Mr. Wright placed on the machine for instruction use.

Following the flights the wind rose, postponing further instructions.

AERONAUT FALLS FIFTY FEET.

Richter Suffers Broken Thigh and Loss of an Eye at Juvisy.

JUVISY, France, Oct. 15.—At the aviation exhibition today Aeronaut Richter fell with his machine "Monitor" from a height of 50 feet. Richter suffered a broken thigh and the loss of an eye, which was gouged out.

GENERAL UNPREPAREDNESS.

Outlook for the Aviation Events at Doncaster Discouraging.

DONCASTER, England, Oct. 15.—Great Britain's first aviation meeting, advertised to open today, has given little indication thus far of fulfilling the promises of its promoters. The conditions today were depressing. A half dozen aeroplanes in various stages of completion occupied unfinished sheds at one side of the race course, where the field had been converted into an aerodrome. A few other machines were expected, but it was evident that the controversy between the managers and the Aero Club of Great Britain had had a chilling effect on the meet. The general state of unpreparedness suggested that the opening of the exhibition was premature, and with the Blackpool meeting, with its greater attractions, coming Monday next the outlook for the events here is not rosy.

The controversy with the Aero Club arose from a conflict of dates between Doncaster and Blackpool. The latter meet had been announced when the Doncaster committee suddenly issued a program for its events. The Aero Club promptly refused to sanction the Doncaster meet, and intimated that it would disqualify those who participatede.

During the early hours rain fell and the wind was gusty, making the prospects for flying today very slim. The prospects of success were not improved by an announcement that the court had appointed an integar receiver to take possession of the financial receipts of the meeting as a consequence of a dispute among the promoters.

Among the flying machines announced to participate is a Wright bi-plane, described as the first Wright aeroplane on wheels. It will be piloted by the French aeronaut, Schreck.

STRIKE BREAKERS EXPECTED.

New York Daily Pie Output Reduced from 100,000 to 3,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The pie bakers' strike here has reduced the daily output of the big pie factories from 100,000 to 3,000. Strike breakers are expected from Philadelphia today to help the Bakers' Employers' Association. An effort to place strike breakers in some of the East Side bakeries last night resulted in clashes between the new men and the strikers. Several arrests were made.

11—Realizing had only a trifle effect on values and there was a further advance. The demand for stocks was varied with the railroad group making the best exhibition of strength. Prices were shaded all around at 11 o'clock.

Noon—Money on call, firm, at 1¾ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4¾ to 5¼ per cent. The buying movement gathered force again and carried prices higher all round. Reading rose 2¾, United States Steel 2¼, Rock Island preferred 2½, American Can preferred 1¾, St. Paul and American Smelting 1½, and a number of others a point or more. American Woolen declined 1. Prices showed the effect of realizing at noon in reactions which ran to a point in some cases. Bonds were irregular.

Two Men, a Chauffeur and a "Doctor," Held by the Fall River Court.

Activity in the Tiverton murder mystery centred in and about Fall River Thursday afternoon and this morning. Some clothing was found in Tiverton, close to the shore and to the Fall River line, part of which was identified as being worn by Amelia St. Jean of Fall River and Woonsocket, who has not been seen since last Friday. This was not an unexpected development and the Fall River police, who had been working within their sphere of action, had several men who were supposed to know something about the St. Jean girl under inspection early after the clothing was identified.

There were two in particular who received the closest kind of scrutiny, Wilfred Thebault, a chauffeur, and "Dr." Frank Hill, whose name was on the telescope case found in Tiverton. As a result of the examination of these two they were this morning arraigned before Judge McDonough in the district court in Fall River, charged with murder. Each pleaded not guilty. At the request of Captain Feeney, the prosecuting officer, they were bound over for ten days. The prisoners had secured counsel.

It is not known whether the charge will be one for Rhode Island or Massachusetts, but the ten days may give such additional information to the police that it can be determined, when the prisoners are next before the court, whether it was a Massachusetts or a Rhode Island murder. The Tiverton officials think the indications point to a murder in Massachusetts, Tiverton being merely used as a place for the disposal of the body and other evidences of the crime. There is a death penalty in Massachusetts and the prisoners would probably prefer taking chances in Rhode Island.

The search along Fish road Thursday revealed nothing more definite than some blood-stained newspapers, which had been used evidently in wrapping parts of the body. All the search was not confined to Fish road. Officer St. Lawrence had something to do in a brush-covered lot at the corner of State avenue and Bay street, and made a find there. While the lot is not woods in the sense that Bulgar Marsh and Fish roads supply woods, it is yet so covered with bushes that things can be hidden there. A search showed these things without the ripping through buck thorns and the scratching of flesh which the woods give the searchers.

The trimmings of a hat were found, and later the hat without its trimming. One shoe was found, and about 15 feet away was its mate. Finally the officer had two underskirts, drawers, a pair of shoes, a hat, a corset cover, and one stocking. The clothing had evidently been ripped from the wearer, the corset cover especially being torn into rags. There were stains on the clothing, but whether of blood or not had not been decided. The find was about 20 yards from the state line, and about 200 or 300 yards from the shore of the bay. The clothing had evidently been thrown about in such a way as to be hidden from view, just as was done with the remains in the Tiverton woods.

There was talk of the head having been thrown into the bay, perhaps from the end of State avenue, which runs to the shore at that point. In following out this idea men were set at work with seines, dragging the waters in the vicinity of Tabor and Sandy beaches, on the bay shore at the end of State avenue, for the missing head. Perhaps also some of the outer clothing of the girl will be found, weighted down, in the bay. What has already been found is underclothing, except the hat and shoes. These were identified by Mrs. Eva Lemerieux of Fall River, aunt of the St. Jean girl, as her property and loaned to the St. Jean girl Friday, the last day she saw her alive.

It will be seen that, though the head is still missing the victim seems to be the missing St. Jean girl and both the prisoners have had association with her. Just what admissions they made under examination by the Fall River police has not been given out, but enough was disclosed to warrant the holding of the prisoners.

The St. Jean girl was 19 years old and in physical characteristics resembled the dead body. She had been living with her aunt in Fall River for a short while.

The search for the head and the rest of the clothing continues, though the rain today has shut down on much of the amateur assistance the police have been receiving.

Mr. and Mrs. John St. Jean, the parents of the girl said to be missing from Woonsocket, failed to identify the dismembered body of the murdered girl as that of their daughter, after a few minutes inspection today. Neither could Mrs. Edwards of Scituate say that the fragments were those of her daughter Gertrude, who is also missing. The failure of the St. Jeans to make an identification was not looked upon by the police as positive evidence that the body was not that of Miss St. Jean. The remains are natural, not in the best condition for one not a medical man to examine carefully. It is now the fifth day since the first portions were found, and though preservative has been used to keep them in condition they are showing signs of decay.

There are rumors of various kinds afloat in Fall River as to what admissions were made to the police by the two men charged with the murder, but nothing definite could be learned. There was a story in Newport today that blood had been found on one of Hill's shoes, but this also lacked official confirmation. The rain ceased about noon and this afternoon the searchers had better weather for their search, but the rain practically killed all efforts at search in the woods.

From the home of Medical Examiner Stimson, Mr. and Mrs. St Jean and Mrs. J. B. Lemoureux, the aunt of Miss St Jean, went to the police station and there all three identified the clothing which was picked up in Tiverton Thursday, 11 miles from the scene of the discovery of the body, as that of Miss St. Jean. Mr. St Jean also said that, on thinking the matter over, he was fairly well convinced that the body was that of his daughter.

Mrs. Lemourcux was positive in her identification of a hat found Thursday as one she loaned her niece last Friday.

THREE SOCIALS.

Newport Artillery, Woman's Auxiliary to Hibernians and Hibernian Rifles Entertain.

The Newport Artillery gave its first social of the season in the Armory Thursday evening. The rain interfered little, if any, with the attendance and a joyful party gathered for the dancing to the music of Knowe's orchestra. The social was in charge of a committee consisting of Major Robert C. Ebbs, Lieutenant James W. Thompson, Sergeant Arthur Power and Corporal A. A. Knowe.

The Woman's Auxiliary to Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, also gave a social, which was well attended, Shield's orchestra furnishing music for the dancing. Miss Mary F. Sullivan, Mrs. V. Harrington, Miss Mary Kearins, Mrs. Thomas Harrington, Mrs. Rose Shields and Mrs. James J. Sullivan were the committee in charge.

Company D, Hibernian Rifles, gave its seventh annual dance in Odd Fellows hall, with a large number in attendance. Music was furnished by McCloskey's orchestra. The floor committee consisted of Daniel D. Shea, floor manager; Lieutenant John W. Blake, assistant floor manager, and Captain J. Murray, Lieutenant John McCarthy, Corporal T. J. Finn, Corporal J. J. Sullivan and Michael Lynch, aides.

SEEN IN "THE GAY HUSSARS."

The entire production of "The Gay Hussars" will be shown here as it was at the Knickerbocker Theatre in New York, on a scale rarely attempted. There are three massive sets of scenery from the Savage workshops in New York, all of which were painted by Walter W. Burridge. The costumes and uniforms were imported from Vienna and are exact duplicates of the originals. The ensemble numbers more than

OTIS HARLAN'S LATEST CREATION.

With a record of more than 300 performances in Chicago, "A Broken Idol," the laughing song play by Hal Stephens, Williams and Van Alstyne, returns to Newport with the entire cast, chorus and production as presented at Manager Whitney's Van Buren Street playhouse. This means that Otis Harlan, who has made the role of "Doc Whatt" one of the best known in modern musical farce, will be the leading generator of laughter. Mr. Harlan's long association with the companies of the late Charles H. Hoyt has for many years made him known wherever the better class of musical comedy and farce have been presented. In his latest character creation he is scoring the most pronounced hit of his career. The production is typical of the Whitney trade mark, which means lavish costuming, scenic and electrical effects, while the chorus is noted for the cleverness of its individual members as dancers and singers.

NEW YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION BUILDING.
Occupied for the first time Thursday evening for the Concert.

NEW HALL OPENED.

Y. M. C. A. Building Used for the First Time Publicly.

Cambrian National Glee Singers Give a Concert Which is a Musical Treat.

The assembly hall in the new Vanderbilt Memorial Young Men's Christian Association was auspiciously opened Thursday evening, when the first in the course of entertainments arranged for the winter was given, before an audience which completely filled the seating capacity. It is the first room in the new building to be opened to the public, and gave a pleasant foretaste of the many good things which the building contains and the many opportunities for work which the new home will give to the Association and the people of Newport. It is an attractive addition to the small halls of Newport and will undoubtedly become popular for certain classes of entertainments. The hall is roomy, and well lighted, both by day and night, and has one feature which belongs to no other in Newport, in that its larger dimensions run across the front of the stage, giving a larger number of the audience a closer view. It is furnished in light colors, the walls being of a pale buff and the wood trimmings in Colonial design in pure white. The stage is also of Colonial design, with a broad arched opening lighted by electricity overhead. There are four handsome electric chandeliers, each carrying four circle and a double centre light, suspended from the ceiling, and six double-light brackets on the side walls. The chairs are movable, in dark finish, with lifting seats, and comfortable. The acoustic qualities are excellent. The hall seats a little more than 300.

The entertainment with which the hall was inaugurated was given by the Cambrian National Glee Singers, an organization of 12 Welsh singers who with excellent reputations at home are making a tour of the country and are likely to make a name for themselves in the United States. That they are trained singers there was no doubt after the first two choruses, Welsh airs. "Ar hyd y Nos" and "March of the Men of Harlech," had been rendered. The voices blended admirably, the enunciation was clear and the parts were rendered in excellent harmony. It was evident at once that a musical treat was in store for the audience.

These choruses were followed by solos by several members. Mr. Richard Thomas, the conductor, sang Balfe's "Good Night, Beloved," in a clear tenor voice admirably used, and as an encore gave the beautiful "I'll Sing Thee Songs of Araby," by Clay. Mr. John Stephens, another tenor, pleased the audience with "The Songs My Mother Used to Sing" and responded to an encore with "Island of Dreams," by Adams, a difficult selection, which was, however, rendered with skill. Mr. John Jones gave "Thora" with a quiet effectiveness which showed the musical ability of the singer.

Mr. Byrthon Williams of the first basses, gave one of the best solos, "A Soldier's Song," which pleased with its martial spirit as well as by the fine rendering. Mr. John Davies's selection was Pinsutti's "Bedouin Love Song." Mr. David Davies sang a rollicking sailor song, "Three for Jack;" Mr. William Lewis Handel's "O Ruddier than the Cherry," one of the most pretentious numbers of the program, was capitally done, and Mr. Aneurin Morris gave a Spanish song, "Bandolero."

There was but one duet, Sargeant's arrangement of "Watchman, What of the Night?" which was given by Messrs. Richard Thomas and John Davies. The voices were well balanced and the parts well shaded, and the general execution good.

There were four other concerted numbers—"Hungarian March," by L. Ra Rille; "Italian Salad," by R. Genea; a new arrangement of "Killarney" and Trotherve's arrangement of "In the Sweet Bye and Bye." In all these the promise of the first numbers was fulfilled. Throughout there was a notable harmony and blending of individual tones and parts, the four parts being well balanced and in unison.

The accompanist, Mr. Glyndwr Llewelyn, seemed a part of the chorus and held the singers to excellent time and action. It was only regretted that he did not give a piano selection or two, as several are credited to him in the repertoire, but he confined his work solely to the accompaniments.

There was no printed programs, but the full repertoire of the chorus and individual singers was distributed among the audience, and the several numbers were announced before each was sung, a novelty which seemed to please.

THE UNIVERSITY EXTENSION LECTURE.

Dr. Edgar J. Banks, who is to give a series of illustrated lectures on "The Recovery of Forgotten Empires" in the University Extension course this winter, is well qualified to speak on the subject from his work in the excavation of buried cities in the East, having been the field director of the recent Babylonian expedition of the University of Chicago. He was for some time professor of ancient history in Robert College, Constantinople, and formerly American consul in Bagdad. More recently he has been instructor in the Semitic languages and Turkish at the University of Chicago. His first lecture will be on "Bismya," the oldest city in the world, and later lectures will treat of Nineveh at Babylon, Egypt, ancient Persia, the long lost Hittites and the days of the Arabian nights.

HURLINGHAM TEAM NOT COMING

Difficulty in Obtaining Polo Ponies Obstacle to Visit to Play for International Cup.

The Hurlingham polo committee, meeting in London Thursday, to consider the question of sending a polo team to the United States next season to try and re-gain the international polo cup, won last summer by the Meadow Brook team, decided against the project. The meeting was held in secret and the secretary was instructed not to give out any information regarding the action of the committee for the present, but it is understood that the difficulty in obtaining ponies was the main obstacle to the sending of a team to America. It was the opinion of the committee that plans for re-capturing the cup should have matured earlier in the year, and that probably the project will be revived in 1910 in time to send a team across the Atlantic in 1911.

P. A. Gill of Ranelagh, England, has accepted an invitation on behalf of the Hurlingham club for the team to have spring practice at the leading tournaments in California. Gill will be accompanied by Major H. R. Lee, F. B. Hurndall and Captain E. A. P. Schriber, all officers of the Twentieth Hussars. Fourteen ponies will be shipped to America October 30.
